USES AND DISCLOSURES OF YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

The following categories describe the ways that we may use and disclose your health information without your written authorization.

Treatment. We may use and disclose your health information to provide you with medical treatment and services. For example, your health information may be disclosed to physicians, nurses, or other health care providers who are involved in your care to coordinate or manage your health care services or to facilitate consultations or referrals as part of your treatment.

Payment. We may use and disclose your health information to obtain payment for the services we provide to you. For example, we may disclose your health information to seek payment from your insurance company or from another third party. We may also inform your insurance company about a treatment you are going to receive so that we obtain prior approval for the treatment or in order to determine whether your insurance company will cover the cost of the treatment.

Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose your health information to conduct certain of our business activities, which are called health care operations. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run our business and make sure our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use your health information for quality assessment activities, necessary credentialing, and for other essential activities. We may also disclose your health information to third party "business associates" that perform various services on our behalf, such as transcription, billing, and collection services. In these cases, we will enter into a written agreement with the business associates to ensure they protect the privacy of your health information.

Family Members and Friends for Care and Payment and Notification. If you verbally agree to the use or disclosure and in certain other situations, we may make the following uses and disclosures of your health information. We may disclose certain health information to your family, friends, and anyone else whom you identify as involved in your health care or who helps pay for your care; the health information we disclose would be limited to the health information that is relevant to that person's involvement in your care or payment for your care. We may also make these disclosures after your death as authorized by law unless doing so is inconsistent with any prior expressed preference. We may use or disclose your information to notify or assist in notifying a family member, personal representative, or any other person responsible for your care regarding your location, general condition, or death. We may also use or disclose your health information to disaster-relief organizations so that your family or other persons responsible for your care can be notified about your condition, status, and location.

For example, we will not disclose your HIV, STD, or other communicable disease related information without obtaining your written permission, except as permitted by law. We may deny your request to inspect and copy in certain very limited circumstances. If you are denied access to your health information, you may request that the denial be reviewed by a licensed health care professional chosen by us. The person conducting the review will not be the person who denied your request. We will comply with the outcome of the review.

However, you may also call one of our staff members at (844) 436-7928 and ask that we contact your provider to obtain a new prescription. Patients may also hand-deliver an original copy of their prescription to our physical pharmacy location.

Patients can obtain the status of their order at any time by either calling our customer service line at (844) 436-7928 or emailing our customer service department at customerservice@genrx2u.com.

Order Delays

On occasion, your insurance plan may reject a claim that may delay your order. Reasons for these rejections may include:

- Refill-Too-Soon: Your insurance plan will usually allow a refill on a prescription 5 to 7 days before you are out of medication for a 30-day supply. If a refill is requested early the insurance plan will send the pharmacy a message of “Refill-Too-Soon” and the pharmacy will hold the prescription until the earliest authorized date of fill..
- Quantity Limit: This is when your provider feels you could benefit from a medication, but you need more than the usual recommended dosage to maintain consistent results. The insurance plan needs to understand this in order to approve coverage.

Our pharmacy staff will work with your provider and insurance plan to address these issues in a timely fashion.

Pharmacy Product Information

GenRx pharmacy will make every effort to dispense the medication prescribed by your provider in a timely fashion. In the event that the availability of a medication has been interrupted due to market delay, emergency, or natural disaster, we will contact you as soon as possible to provide options.

Instructions on How to Safely Dispose of Drugs

Disposing of Medicines in Household Trash

Almost all medicines can be disposed of in your household trash. These include prescription and over-the-counter (OTC) drugs in pills, liquids, drops, patches, creams, and inhalers.

Follow these steps:

1. Remove the drugs from their original containers and mix them with something undesirable, such as used coffee grounds, dirt, or cat litter. This makes the medicine less appealing to children and pets and unrecognizable to someone who might intentionally go through the trash looking for drugs.
2. Put the mixture in something you can close (a re-sealable zipper storage bag, empty can, or other container) to prevent the drug from leaking or spilling out.
3. Throw the container in the garbage.
4. Scratch out all your personal information on the empty medicine packaging to protect your identity and privacy. Throw the packaging away.

Flushing Drugs and the Water Supply

Some people wonder if it's okay to flush certain medicines. There are concerns about the small levels of drugs that may be found in surface water, such as rivers and lakes, and in drinking water supplies.

"The main way drug residues enter water systems is by people taking medicines and then naturally passing them through their bodies," says Raanan Bloom, Ph.D., an environmental assessment expert at the FDA. "Many drugs are not completely absorbed or metabolized by the body and can enter the environment after passing through wastewater treatment plants."

The FDA and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency take the concerns of flushing certain medicines in the environment seriously. Still, there has been no sign of environmental effects caused by flushing recommended drugs.

If you have any further question about your medicine, feel free to call our pharmacy or your healthcare provider.
